Dolly Parton's dream of advancing early childhood literacy lives on as her Imagination Library builds its presence in Ventura County.

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library (DPIL) is a book gifting program that mails high-quality, age-appropriate books to participating children from birth to age five, at no cost to their families. For the last 30 years, the Imagination Library has mailed over 300 million books to children throughout the US and four other countries. Currently, each month the program delivers three million books to eligible children.

Ventura County Library Foundation (VCLF) is DPIL's official Local Program Partner, and is launching Imagination Library of Ventura County. For donors, VCLF is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, receiving tax-deductible contributions under Federal Tax ID 46-2770894.

Research has shown that participants in the Imagination Library program develop stronger literacy skills and are better prepared for Pre-K and Kindergarten. Participating families in Ventura County can choose either all-English or bilingual (Spanish/English) books to be mailed monthly directly to their children.

Although the books are free to Ventura families, this program is supported by funds donated from the local community. Additionally, the California State Legislature has agreed to contribute one half of the cost of the books for the Imagination Library of Ventura County.

Ventura County Library Foundation is seeking financial contributions from individuals, local city/county governments, school districts, community organizations, businesses and foundations across Ventura County to facilitate the launch and sustainability of this worthy literacy program. The goal is to raise $100,000 prior to enrolling children and $200,000 for sustained operations.

If you would like to support this program, please make out your check or money order to the Ventura County Library Foundation with "Imagination Library" in the memo, and mail it to:

Ventura County Library Foundation/ILVC, PO Box 6363, Ventura, CA 93006.
